

Mari Jose Aranguren new General Director of Orkestra-Basque Institute of Competitiveness

The new General Director, who has been working at Orkestra since its foundation, takes on this role in a strategic moment in which the institute is fostering a model of action research, which supports the public administrations and businesses, through projects directed at solving real problems that affect the competitiveness of the Basque Country.

Mari Jose Aranguren will lead the team at Orkestra, made up of over 30 researchers with different nationalities and profiles.

This role will be carried out bringing the university closer to the real economy looking for the joint creation of knowledge, where both the actor of the territory and the researcher commit, learn and move forward together to reach this objective.

Orkestra has strengthened its Directorate General with the creation of a Sub-directorate General, being assumed by Ibon Gil de San Vicente, who has also formed part of Orkestra's team since its beginning.
